CONFERENCE SCHEDULE

Discovering the Chaplains Role in Reentry

Chaplains are on the front lines, working with a population where many will be released back to their homes after completing their sentence. This conference will give the chaplains insights on the issues and needs to assist with reentry.

Kelly Shaw, a native of Delaware County, Pennsylvania, and a current resident, has always been a leader. She graduated with a Liberal Arts Degree and a post-baccalaureate teaching certification and was a Division 1 collegiate athlete who enjoyed rowing, biking, and weight training in his spare time. Her leadership skills were evident in her 9-year teaching career and later as Deputy Superintendent of Programs at George W. Hill Correctional Facility (Delaware County Prison) for another 9-years. Currently, she serves as the Program and Reentry Administrator at the facility, where her leadership continues to make a significant impact.

John Kelton, better known as Jake, is the Program Manager of the Erie County Reentry Services and Support Alliance (ECRSSA) office. Jake is a veteran law enforcement officer with over 20 years of experience as a Forensic Scientist, Narcotics Agent, Detective, and law enforcement instructor. The experiences gained from conducting investigations, buying controlled drugs, and living with the Cartel are now used to help relate to the lifestyles and challenges that persons released from incarceration face when reentering the community.

Abby Tovinger is an Assistant Counsel for the Department of Corrections, where she handles inmate litigation matters.

Tara Wikhian is an Assistant Counsel for the Department of Corrections, where she handles inmate litigation matters.
